What financial products can we offer?

We are authorised to provide general advice only, and deal in, the following financial products in relation to retail and wholesale clients:

1. Securities;
2. Debentures;
3. Derivatives;
4. Interests in managed investment schemes excluding investor directed portfolio services; and
5. Basic deposit products.

What financial services can we offer?

It is important for you to understand that under these disclosures, we can only provide you with general advice and trading. The “general” nature of this advice means that it will not account for nor be tailored to your individual objectives, specific financial situation or other personal needs.

Accordingly, it is important that you obtain prior advice from a licensed professional regarding the suitability of our products and services for your individual objectives, specific financial situation or other personal needs.

How can I give you instructions about my Financial Product/s?

We can deal on your behalf by carrying out your specific instructions. You can send us your specific instructions in the following ways:

- In person
- By ordinary or registered post
- By email communication
- Via the telephone
- Such other method as may be mutually agreed between us

Do you have any relationships or associations with Financial Product issuer?

We are an Authorised Representative of ShareX Pty Ltd and in providing you with financial services and products, we are acting on behalf of our Australian Financial Services Licensee.

What documentation will I receive from AFSC?

AFSC will provide its clients with the relevant information to facilitate the provision of its general advice and execution of your transactions. It is important that you carefully read all documentation and disclosure statements that we give you, and seek professional financial, legal and taxation advice to enable you to make informed investment decisions.

Our record-keeping obligations

AFSC will seek to ensure that comprehensive and accurate records of all client information, transactions and all client advice provided, are properly maintained.

How is AFSC remunerated for the financial services provided?

AFSC may receive brokerages, fees and commissions from third-party product issuers. Such fees will be advised to you prior to being charged to you.

Representatives of AFSC who provide you with general advice or execute a transaction on your behalf may receive commissions or other remuneration for the provision of these services.

How are any commissions, fees or other benefits calculated for providing the financial services?

Our Australian Financial Services Licensee ShareX maintains professional indemnity insurance in relation to the financial products and services we provide, in compliance with the legal requirements set out in Section 912B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and ASIC Regulatory Guide 126. From the effective date of this FSG the policy covers claims in relation to the conduct of present and past representatives.

We may rely on these professional indemnity insurances for claims for compensation we receive from clients or past clients. These insurances are between ShareX as our authorising Australian Financial Services Licensee and their insurer and are intended to respond to civil liability resulting from significant claims for compensation made against us for financial services provided by us or our representatives. These insurances provide cover even if one of our representatives has ceased to act or work for us.

Where we are liable to make a compensation payment ourselves, we will generally do so out of existing cash-flow and other resources.

Privacy

AFSC is committed to protecting your Personal Information in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles (APP) and the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the Privacy Act). Our Privacy Policy contains up to-date information about our privacy practices and procedures.
